New Orient Classic and Simple Style 38 Models with a 38-mm Case

Orient will introduce four new Classic and Simple Style 38 models to its Classic Collection. The international best-selling Classic and Simple Style series now includes a long awaited 38-mm diameter case perfect for both men and women.

ORIENT

The Classic and Simple Style series features traditional design features such as a convex dial and domed glass. The series has been a consistent best-seller over the last decade in 70 countries and regions around the world. Until now, they featured mostly 40.5-mm case diameters, however these latest models feature a more compact 38-mm case.

Global watch trends are shifting from large watches with a bold presence to smaller watches that fit comfortably on the wrist. Furthermore, there has been a particular trend towards simple watches displaying only the time using ageless designs with classical looks. The Classic and Simple Style 38 features both these trends in a size that suits both men and women.

Classic and Simple Style 38 models are powered by Orient's automatic in-house 46-F6 series caliber F6724 movement providing high performance and reliability. The beautiful finishing on the movement can be admired through the see-through case back, and the domed glass and convex dial with simple bar indices create a vintage feel. The dial is available in classic beige as well as tasteful black and white versions that complement the simple design of the dial perfectly.

The new models provide an understated, elegant presence on the wrist to accompany any style.
